 I'm looking for a skincare brand from Asia that doesn't test on animals.

 Based on your criteria of seeking a skincare brand from Asia that does not test on animals, here are the options:

- SKIN1004: This South Korean brand is certified cruelty-free by PETA and Cruelty-Free Kitty, ensuring no animal testing is conducted.
- Beauty of Joseon: Also from South Korea, this brand is verified as cruelty-free by Cruelty-Free Kitty, meeting your requirements.
- Cosrx: Acquired by Amorepacific, Cosrx itself does not test on animals and sells exclusively online in mainland China to avoid local animal testing regulations.

 All these brands are based in Asia and adhere to the no animal testing policy you specified.

 What are their most popular cleansers?

 Based on the information provided, here are the most popular cleansers from the recommended Asian skincare brands that align with your values (animal-testing-free):

1. SKIN1004 Madagascar Centella Light Cleansing Oil

- Description: A vegan oil cleanser and makeup remover with a soothing effect.
- Key Features:
  - Removes impurities, excess sebum, and sunscreen without irritation.
  - Contains centella asiatica extract grown in Madagascar for hydration and calming effects.
  - Gentle on sensitive skin.

2. SKIN1004 Madagascar Centella Ampoule Foam

- Description: A vegan cream cleansing foam designed for sensitive skin.
- Key Features:
  - Removes makeup and impurities while hydrating the skin.
  - Promotes regeneration, soothes irritation, and softens the skin.
  - Non-drying formula suitable for all skin types.

These cleansers are cruelty-free and align with your preference for Asian skincare products. Let me know if you'd like more details!

 Do any of those contain green tea extract?

 Based on the provided product details, none of the SKIN1004 or Purito products listed contain green tea extract. The ingredients mentioned in their descriptions include centella asiatica extract, squalane, niacinamide, olive oil, sunflower oil, jojoba oil, sweet almond oil, and grapeseed oil, but no green tea extract is included.

If you're looking for products that specifically contain green tea extract, you might want to search for other brands or products that highlight green tea as an ingredient.
